School Buildings Needed

Jacksonville citizens will be asked to vote next Tuesday on proposals to build two new school buildings and to issue bonds to cover the cost thereof. In view of the fact that the federal government is granting the city 45 per cent of the cost of the two buildings and that no such opportunity is ever likely to occur again, it seems advisable that the people should vote favorably on the proposals and that the Board of Education should proceed to complete the building program so urgently needed here.

The plan is to replace the Lafayette and Franklin schools with new structures similar to the new Washington building. Both the schools in question are antiquated and are dangerous as fire traps. They are outmoded and poorly arranged, and lack the equipment necessary for giving children of the second and third wards the advantages of a modern education.

The people will be asked to vote on three proposals, to build a new school on the Lafayette site, to build a new school on the Franklin site, and to authorize the issuing of $125,000 worth of bonds by District No. 117 to cover the cost of construction. The government is offering to grant $92,000, which means that the district can secure two new modern buildings for practically the price of one. This is a bargain voters should not pass up.

The board is not asking authority to increase the tax. Under plans of financing carefully worked out, it is believed the cost can be met without increasing taxes. The bonds will draw four per cent interest and run for 20 years.

The Journal and Courier endorses the entire program and urges every citizen to vote favorably on all three proposals in the election Tuesday. The polls, located in the four ward schools, will be open from noon until 7 p. m.

Character First or Last

Many well meaning folks alarmed about giving food and shelter are forgetting character-building. Why build character when stomachs are empty? They see the problem of social distress in the perspective so long-sided as to contain no real place for the future. There is a counsel of today that is destructive of tomorrow.

The superficial cure is food, clothing and shelter. The fundamental cure is a constructive program and service of our character building agencies. Our youth require more than food and shelter. They must be guided during these times to safeguard the future. There has never been a time in the life of the American people when skillfully organized leisure time activities of a character building nature were more necessary.

Character building is the basis service of any program. The Y. M. C. A. should be maintained. It is more needed today than ever before.

Jumping at Conclusions

The average human being is prone to draw general conclusions from a few isolated facts, and by so doing he often does his fellow humans a great injustice. For example, an elderly person hears of a group of young people "throwing a wild party," and at once concludes that the entire younger generation is going to the dogs with the gas pushed to the floor board. Fact is, there are some young folks who will sow wild oats whether or no, but they aren't all bad.

A scientist who has never given much thought to religion is asked what he thinks of things eternal and in his reply casts doubt on religions tents. At once excitable people jump to the conclusion that all scientists are irreligious and bent on destruction of religion. Nothing could be farther from the truth. Many of our scientists are religious men with high moral ideals.

The same thing is true when big events occur and are flashed to the world. Maybe there's a small earthquake on the west coast, and somebody gets the idea that mother earth has swallowed Los Angeles. When we had our tornado in July, 1934, a radio reporter jumped to the conclusion that 500 people had been killed and broadcast the news, much to the distress of people in all parts of the country who had relatives here.

Jumping to conclusions is dangerous business and often results in statements that are not only misleading but positively untrue. When a citizen gets hold of some particularly exciting bit of news of whatever nature, he should take a sober second thought before he tells it to his neighbors or deduces some general conclusion from it. He might be wrong.

Final Straw

Bruno Hauptmann's lawyers have asked the United States Supreme Court to set aside their client's conviction, and among their arguments is the assertion that his trial was nothing less than a "circus."

There certainly is no denying that the Hauptmann trial did have enough odd features to make an old-fashioned believer in the dignity of the courts moan with dull pain. But if your memory of that occasion is good, you may recall that the defense itself was not entirely blameless.

After all, there is nothing in ordinary criminal court procedure which makes it incumbent on defense attorneys to consult with the press every night, telling what they will do tomorrow, explaining how and why the state's case has fallen flat, and announcing in intricate detail how they are going to get their client acquitted.

The Hauptmann trial was, in some respects, a circus indeed; but our recollection is that the prosecution was not solely at fault.

Test Of A Leader

This play, "Tobacco Road," may have its faults as theatrical entertainment, but it does at least offer a fine test for the intelligence of the mayors of the cities in which it is scheduled to appear.

As you have probably heard, it depicts the lives of a peculiarly squalid and degenerate class of "poor whites" in the south. It is filled with profanity and is not exactly what you would call pleasant and sunny.

When it appeared in Chicago, Mayor Kelly banned it. It moved on to Detroit and was similarly banned there. Then it wandered in to Cleveland, where Mayor Burton permitted it to be shown; and he remarked: "The people of this town are their own censors. They can use their own judgment on the plays they want to see."

That sounds like good common sense. After all, there is no law requiring any citizen to attend a play which he thinks he won't like.

Better, But Still Bad

The latest figures on unemployment show two things pretty clearly. First, that conditions are slowly getting better; second, that even if they get a great deal better they are still going to be very, very bad.

New figures from the National Industrial Conference Board put the number of unemployed workers in September at 9,466,000, a decrease of 386,000 from the preceding month and a drop of 927,000 from September of 1934.

This represents a substantial and steady improvement, for which we may give thanks. But how slow the improvement is, after all! If we should maintain that rate of improvement, it would be 10 mortal years before our unemployed were all back at work.

It is a truism to say that unemployment is the greatest problem of the day. A brief study of these figures shows that it is a problem which will take a tremendous amount of solving.

Behind The Scenes In Washington

A Rare Chap, Who Can Make Music With His Bare Hands, Is New FHA Expert
Walsh . . . This Housing Problem Is Hard One to Solve . . . Both Owning and Renting Cost Too Much.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal and Courier Washington Correspondent

Washington—Mr. Arthur Walsh, the new assistant administrator of Federal Housing Administration, is about as astonishing a fellow as you're likely to meet.

He can make music with his bare hands. Actually plays tunes with them. Cupping palms and fingers together, he achieves a sort of wind instrument from which he can produce melodies with a sound which is an approximate compromise between a kazoo and a whistle and not unpleasant, either.

At banquets where stuffed shirts were boring everybody stiff with speeches, Mr. Walsh has been known to slip his hands under the table and quite anonymously, to emit with disturbing audibility such tunes as "Show Me the Way to Go Home" and "How Dry I Am."

New Dealers, accustomed to no end of oddities, agree with awe that this is the darndest thing they ever saw or heard.

Also, Walsh's new appointment is an improvement over most previous top-rank appointments in FHA. He is a protégé of Charles Edison, formerly worked with the Edison laboratories, New Jersey, and more lately has been FHA's deputy administrator in charge of modernization loans.

Outlook Is Bleak

A recent official survey showed thirty-seven federal agencies to have "definite responsibilities in housing." The New Deal has sparred with the housing problem more or less furiously. Housing is the one big thing Roosevelt's intimate friends say he will grapple with in his second administration—if any—and nearly all the outstanding American housing experts are or have been here on the federal payroll or as consultants.

What all those housing people whisper privately to your correspondent almost exactly parallels a letter just received from a former high official who went away to supervise one of the largest non-profit housing experiments now under way anywhere. Let us quote:

"I have just been through the process of actually getting some houses started. These are supposed to be minimum houses, not luxury homes or even good houses, but minimum decent houses that will stand up for twenty years and house an average family.

"So far, it seems the job can't be done for much less than $6000, which means they will have to rent for $60 a month to carry themselves.

"According to income figures by Brookings, 71 per cent of the families in this country can't afford that much for housing. No wonder there is a housing shortage.

"Owning or renting comes out the same way—housing costs too much."

Hard to Figure Out
"I've been over this question of reducing building material costs from one end to the other," continues this expert, "over the labor problem, over the expensive distribution system, everything. It all adds up to some figure and yet you can't make an appreciable cut in it anywhere.

"Mortgage tinkering, housing act, hot air, and everything else cannot make a decent business out of housing at the present state in the arts of production—the present state being about a 1906 period (poorer, by the way, than 1890 construction).

"I've even looked over all the prefabricated houses and see nothing good yet. It's always something a lot better (so they say), for a little more money, when we need something almost as good for a lot less money.

"Each is trying to adapt his material or plant to something new instead of setting out boldly to find a new thing irrespective of what it may turn out to be."

Hope for Subsidy
Resettlement Administration is trying to find the "new thing." PWA Housing hopes to provide a few homes for lower middle class incomes of $1500 to $2000 a year, but to achieve that it must operate with a 45 per cent subsidy and a 3 per cent interest rate for 60 years!

About all housing experts here hope for is enough PWA and RA "demonstrations" to inspire widespread pub-

People's Forum

This Department is Conducted by Our Readers. The Opinions Given Are Theirs.

To the Editor of the Journal-Courier: The two new schools within our reach seem an answer to the prayers of many anxious parents who have had to risk sending their children daily to veritable fire traps.

At the time the Jefferson School was built, the Lafayette School was to have been next in the necessarily slow building program of the Board of Education, when the fire at the Washington School (fortunately without loss of life) necessitated the immediate building of that school.

The citizens of Jacksonville certainly do not need another fire (perhaps not so fortunate) to make them realize the necessity of new school buildings.

Every voter may not believe in civic beauty and betterment which these schools will enhance; every voter may not believe in higher ideals in education; but every voter does believe that he must protect the lives of children—even if they are only his neighbor's children!

Cat Bites Boy and Act Causes Alarm

Feline Believed to Have Been Rabid and Head Is Being Examined

Virginia—The 6-year-old son of Thomas Spires, who lives near the Edgar Thompson farm, was given vaccine treatments for hydrophobia this week by Dr. J. P. Myers after the boy had been bitten by a pet believed to have been rabid.

The boy was playing with the cat when he was bitten. Serum was sent from the state health department and administered by Dr. Myers to prevent hydrophobia.

The cat was killed by Mr. Spires and sent to the state office Wednesday for examination to determine if it had rabies.

This is the first case of its kind in this section for many months. Over a year ago a mad dog bit horses and cattle, spreading the disease among stock on the Ernest Leimberger farm one mile south of here.

SOUTH JACKSONVILLE P. T. A. MEETS TONIGHT

The regular meeting of the South Jacksonville Parent-Teacher association will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the school building. Principal Jane Wright has announced that a two reel "Our Gang" comedy will be shown on the screen.

All patrons and friends of the school are invited to attend.

Gene Winhold of Beardstown was transacting business in the city yesterday afternoon.

FOX MAJESTIC—Today and Saturday. Frankie Darro in "VALLEY OF WANTED MEN." Also another episode of "TOM MIX IN THE MIRACLE RIDER."

EVERY NIGHT AT 8

Film producers having lured many celebrities from the radio world, air officials have launched a counter attack with an offer in the form of a five-year singing contract to three motion picture actresses providing they give up all screen work.

Alice Faye, Frances Langford and Patsy Kelly, principals appearing opposite George Raft in Walter Wagner's Paramount musical comedy drama, "EVERY NIGHT AT EIGHT," coming Saturday only to the FOX ILLINOIS theatre, received the radio proposal from Raymond Paige, Western Musical Director of the Columbia Broadcasting Company. Paige became enthusiastic about the singing of the three girls after witnessing a pre-preview of "Every Night at Eight" in which they appear as a sister singing trio. Free tickets today for J. L. Henry, 215 Webster Avenue.

VALLEY OF WANTED MEN

"Calling all cars! Be on the lookout for three escaped convicts!" If, some night, you sat beside your radio, you heard this cryptic message cut through the air, you would be interested, indeed.

And, what if you could start at the beginning, see the reason for the message and follow the scurrying officers as they closed in upon their quarry, it would be a night well spent.

All these thrills, all this suspense, all this adventure is packed into Peter B. Kyne's screen bombshell, "VALLEY OF WANTED MEN," which opens today at the FOX MAJESTIC.

Beginning with the escape from the penitentiary of these desperate convicts, the action traces their frantic and desperate flight before the officers of the law.

How they finally reach the man responsible for their imprisonment and how he is forced to vindicate them, make a story that for sheer punch, power and gripping interest is in a class by itself.

Featured in this red-blooded story of miscarriage of justice is Frankie Darro, Roy Mason, Russell Hopton, Grant Withers, Drue Lyon. Also Tom Mix in another episode of "The Miracle Rider." Passes today for Edward J. Howe, 749 E. Chambers.

MUNITY

From the blood-drenched decks of a man-of-war to the ecstasy of a sun-baked paradise tale . . . from the lyrical grasp of a brutal captain to the arms of forlorn beauties who brought them love and forgetfulness . . . came sixteen men from the "Bounty." Now their romantic story lives on the screens of the world . . . in one of the greatest entertainments since the birth of motion pictures! Starts at the FOX ILLINOIS, Sunday.

LET KIDNEYS FLUSH OUT 3 LBS. A DAY

Clean Out 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes

Nature put over 15 miles of tiny tubes and filters in your kidneys to strain the waste matter out of the blood. Kidneys should pass 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter.

When the passing of water is scanty, with smarting and burning, the 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes and dizziness.

If kidneys don't empty 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter, your body may take up some of these poisons causing serious trouble. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, which have been used successfully by millions of people for over 40 years. They give happy relief and help the kidneys to flush out 3 pounds a day. Judge J. M. Barnes Will Preside Over Chicago Bar Meet

Local Attorneys Officers of Probate Law and Tax Sections

A program of interest to all lawyers of Illinois whose practice lies particularly within the probate and trust law fields has been arranged for the meeting of the section on probate and trust law of the Illinois State Bar Association to be held at 10 o'clock this morning at the Stevens hotel, by Judge James M. Barnes, Jacksonville, chairman of the section.

Much of the material for the program has been evolved from the meetings of the section held in conjunction with the meetings of the district federations of local bar associations held recently throughout the seven supreme judicial districts.

In the field of trust law, Professor George Bogert of the University of Chicago and Professor Merrill I. Schneley of the University of Illinois will lead a discussion of the uniform trust act. Professor Bogert is recognized as an outstanding authority in this field, and is the author of a recent treatise upon the subject.

In the field of probate law, Judge Walker D. Hull of Rockford will discuss with the section the problem of securing uniformity in probate forms throughout the state. Judge Benjamin S. DeBoe of Springfield will conduct a discussion of uniformity in rules for practice in county and probate courts in Illinois. William M. James of the Chicago bar will lead the discussion of the work of the section in recodifying the laws of Illinois on the subject of probate matters and administration of estates in general.

Attorney Orville M. Foreman is secretary of the tax section of the Illinois State Bar Association, which has also planned a meeting on Nov. 29 in Chicago. The chairman of this section is former Senator Harold S. Hicks of Rockford. Mr. Foreman has assisted in a study the section has been making of local taxing units. The overlapping of road districts and school districts has been studied and tentative plans worked out whereby some of these taxing units might be consolidated with a saving to the taxpayers.

CAMP JACKSONVILLE CAN USE SHRUBBERY

Bushes Will Be Set Out to Decorate Grounds

Jacksonville citizens who thin out their shrubbery this winter need not throw away the surplus bushes. The CCC Camp wants it, and will make good use of all shrubbery that looks good in the "front yard."

Captain W. B. Hayes, commanding officer of Camp Jacksonville, said this morning that several offers already have been received for shrubbery to be set out on the camp grounds. Any one wishing to give the camp shrubbery may phone 892 and a truck will be sent to get it.

Beautification of the camp grounds already is under way, and spring will find a well-planned landscape in front of the buildings. J. Cohen's Sons gave the camp a 50 foot flag pole which has been erected in front of the barracks.

Cinder walks have been completed over the several acre camp grounds.

FAT GIRLS GET THE GO-BY—SLIM GIRLS WIN MEN

Lost Fat the Easy Way—Without Starvation Diets, or Back-Breaking, Bending and Rolling Exercises. There's a reason why so many people find dieting slow and often times futile in reducing. The reason, doctors say, is often because a little plant in the blood stream about the size of a pinhead is out of control.

All the blood in your body goes through this tiny gland sixteen times every day. If it doesn't pour into the blood stream about one and one-half drops of vital fluid every 24 hours, many people take on ugly fat. This fluid helps Nature to "burn up" excess food and fatty tissue in much the same way as a good "draft" acts in a furnace.

Now, physicians combat this condition by feeding this gland the substance it lacks—and millions of pounds of excess fat has been wiped out this way.

Marmola Prescription Tablets are based on the same scientific method used by doctors. So why not lose fat the easy way—without starvation diets or back-breaking, bending and rolling exercises? Start the Marmola treatment today that millions have used successfully to get rid of excess fat. The formula is in every box so you know just what you are taking. Don't wait—get Marmola today from druggists.

Schools Open After Scarlet Fever Wave

Contagion in Greene County Communities Checked: Carrollton News

Carrollton—The Union school and the Hay Press school which were closed recently on account of cases of scarlet fever in the district, have been re-opened. From information reaching here, scarlet fever and diphtheria, which were prevalent in various sections of the county have been checked as no new cases of either disease has been reported in the past ten days.

Mrs. Robert Meldrum and son who reside in the Union district and who were scarlet fever patients have recovered sufficiently to be able to be up and around. Nadine, a 5-year-old daughter of the Meldrums, died from scarlet fever about a month ago.

Word reaching Matthew Markham here from doctors at St. John's hospital in St. Louis is that his sister, Miss Kate Markham, is not recovering as rapidly as it was hoped. Miss Markham is suffering from severe back and body bruises in the region of the kidneys and liver sustained several weeks ago when a folding bed she was moving, fell upon her.

Mrs. Joseph Tuley of the Mt. Gilead community who has been ill for the past several days is reported as much better.

Presbyterian Meeting
Class No. 3 of the Presbyterian Sunday school of this city held its regular monthly meeting in the Presbyterian church basement Tuesday night. After the business meeting and Thanksgiving roll call and praise service, a Thanksgiving playlet was given. The star parts were acted by Miss Mildred Horn as John Alden and Rosalee Ewart as Priscilla. Thirty-one members were present. The hostesses were Mrs. Clark Thomas and Mrs. Francis Davis and Misses Grace Meek and Grace Vedder.

Mrs. Fred Busch is leaving here this week for Long Beach, Calif., where she will spend the winter with her son, John R. Busch, who is an officer in the United States Navy.

Mrs. Roy Valentine of Kane is spending this week here with Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Hutchens.

Attorney Julian Hutchens of Greenfield spent Tuesday in Carrollton attending to legal matters at the county court house.

Supreme Justice Norman L. Jones spent the week-end and Monday at his home here.

I felt like Washington at Valley Forge...until I got into HANES!

"GOOSE-PIMPLES?... I used to have them as big as lemons! My skin felt as rough as sandpaper from Fall till the first of Spring. But that was before I got hep to HANES. I'll never forget my first suit. I pulled it on and buttoned up, and it felt as soft and warm as could be. I'm telling you those HANES people know their knitting. They're not a bunch of knit-wits. They make that cloth so elastic, and so true to your trunk and chest-size, that it stretches and gives with every move you make! I've never even had it cut in the crotch when I bend over to lace my shoes. I know I'm hot for HANES... HANES makes it hot for me!"

Carrollton Picks 129 Pound Guard as Most Valuable Man

Carrollton, Nov. 22.—The hills and fairs east of Carrollton have again produced the most valuable man to the Carrollton high school football team.

Tom Ballard, a 129 pound guard, the lightest man on the team, has been voted by his team-mates as the most valuable man because of his ability to block on offense, his ability to take care of himself on defense, and his never flagging spirit.

Last year the Hawks selected one of Ballard's neighbors, Duane Scott, to receive the Journal and Courier gold football, and this year they went back to the same territory. They hope to find some more good football players in that section of the county to use on next year's team.

The name of Ballard has loomed large in Greene county athletics. The present selection for the gold football is a brother of Verne Ballard, who last year was selected as one of the all-conference guards in the Illinois Valley conference. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Ballard, who live about six miles east of Carrollton.

Tom likes his football first, but during the off season he has established a reputation of being one of the best square dancers in Greene county. He has been able to wear out any fiddler he goes up against. He is 17 years old and a senior this year.

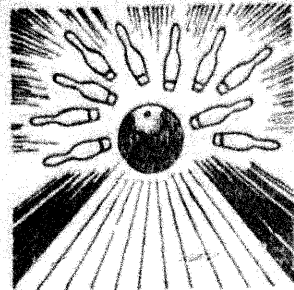

This year's gold football winner is a long distance runner of note.

Make Last Appearance For Blueboys Saturday

FRED COLEMAN.

Co. Captain ABE FEDURIS.

MEFFERT KURTZ.

WILLIS MUNGER.

Co. Captain LOUIS DAVIS.

Unique is the record of this quintet, all of them seniors on the Illinois College football team who will play their final game here this Saturday against McKendree College's Bearcats. The latter eleven, imbued with the championship spirit, will find these five boys pretty tough opponents.

These boys need a win this Saturday to make their record of three straight years in second place in the Little 19. One touchdown kept them from achieving the title last year.

Coleman hails from Palmyra, where he took his first football work under Joe Wyler, now coaching at Stonington. Coleman has made a reputation as a pass catcher, and this year has turned in his most consistent work as an end, just when it was needed. He has the ability to relax in tough spots, seldom gets injured, and handles the ball much as a basketball player handles it.

Co. Capt. Abe Feduris is a Johnston City boy, coming here along with Athletic Director LaRue Van Meter and Coach Ray Nusspickel. Feduris has been one of the stand-outs in the college line this year.

Meffert Kurtz, who came here from Chester, is a November player, reaching his best form of the season as a tackle when the chilly and rainy weather arrive. He weighs 235 pounds and is one of the reasons why the Illinois offense has been clicking of late.

Recognized last year as an all-conference guard, Willis Munger, a dynamic little guard from Beardstown did not let past glory pave his road this year, but has been playing one of the best games of his college career, a career full of brilliant performances. A hard tackler and blocker, Munger gets into the interference where he clears the way for the boys lugging the leather. Munger takes his fling in the ring or on the gridiron, and is far better than the average boy in either place.

A center who keeps the ball where the backs want it has been the reputation of Louis Davis, a 185 pounder from Gary, Indiana, has made during his four years on the Illinois College varsity. Davis is captain of the defense, while his running mate, Co. Capt. Feduris handles the offense. He doesn't look for anything easy, and gives his opponents just as much as they send.

Champaign, Ill., Nov. 22.—They will twine no championship laurels for the winner of the battle between Chicago and Illinois which will close the season in the Illinois stadium Saturday.

But it promises to be just as thrilling and exciting a game as if a crown awaited the victor.

Bob Zupke's Fighting Illini, whose gallant performance against Ohio State evoked the plaudits of the Columbus press, will strive to the utmost to end their campaign with a victory.

Triumph will mean a lot to Chuck Galbreath and his followers who have battled so courageously against such obstacles this season. It will mean that a grand fighting eleven such as the Illini will not have to rank at the foot of the Big Ten ladder.

It will be the valedictory of Galbreath, Arvo Antilla, Eddie Gryboski, Les Lindberg, George Frederick, Bob Wright, Cliff Gano, Ken Bradley, Earl Jansen, Eli Vanormann and Matt Tischler.

Be assured that Illinois will fight as hard as if the title happened to be the game of battle.

But Chicago has an equal incentive. It is the last college game for their great back, Jay Berwanger. "Win this one for Jay" has been the slogan which alternated on the midway this week with the familiar appeal, "Beat Illinois."

For two years Illinois has downed the Maroons by a single touchdown, thwarting the strong challenge of their old rivals when Berwanger was prevented from scoring.

Two years ago, the Maroons lost here by a score of 7 to 0 after victory often seemed within their grasp. Berwanger gained more than the entire Illinois backfield.

Last year on Stagg field Illinois again won, 6 to 0, when Galbreath snagged a deflected pass and crossed into the Maroon end zone. Berwanger was a constant menace throughout.

Now the Maroons come en masse. They are bringing their band to inspire their warriors.

The same lineup which nearly wrecked the championship hopes of Ohio State will be started against the Illini. Berwanger was more or less under wraps against Indiana on account of his injured shoulder, but this week it is expected that he will be able to shoot the works.

Omar Fared, the Persian halfback, who was on the crippled list and unable to play against Indiana, has returned.

The Maroons believe that they can beat the Illini. If they play the football they did against Ohio State. The recollection of the Buckeye's do not give the Illini any feeling of assurance. Chicago scored two touchdowns on Ohio State, one by an 87 yard run by Berwanger.

The Illinois lineup will probably include Les Lindberg, who has been alternating with Jewett Cole at left halfback. Lindberg, who has not played since the Northwestern game, seems to have regained much of his old speed.

Zupke will probably not decide until the last minute whether Francis Cantwell or Ken Nelson will start at left end. Cantwell played a swell game against Ohio State while Nelson has been held back by his injury.

Jack Berner, the aggressive little tackle, will undoubtedly appear at some place.

The Illini will spend their pre-game time at the Champaign Country club. The Maroons will arrive on a special Saturday noon.

Waverly callers in the local community yesterday included Lobby Lyon.

George Lyons of Waverly spent Thursday in Jacksonville transacting business.

Whirlpool of Rumors Makes Every One Dizzy at Minor League Meeting at Toledo

By Paul Mickelson

Dayton, O., Nov. 21.—(47)—A whirlpool of rumors made everyone dizzy at the minor league convention today but it was learned from reliable sources that:

1—The Philadelphia Athletics had sold shortstop Eric McNair and outfielder Roger Cramer to the Boston Red Sox and third baseman Pinky Higgins to the New York Yankees.

2—Bob Quinn had agreed definitely to serve as general manager of the Boston Braves, who will be recognized within the next few days on a basis that will surprise everyone.

3—Outfielder Al Simmons of the Chicago White Sox will play for Detroit next year if Mickey Cochrane can sell him to Walter O. Briggs, now sole owner of the world's champions.

4—Jimmy Fox, star home run hitter of the Athletics, may remain in Philadelphia after all, still acting as the backbone of the club. Offsetting that information was a persistent report that Fox would go to the White Sox.

These reports were received from men who have never been known to stir a false rumor, men whose word is recognized as good as a cashier's check, but whose names cannot be mentioned without violation of confidence.

The "inside" of the big deals involving several of the outstanding stars of the American league was that Connie Mack at first meant to sell Cramer, McNair and Fox to the Red Sox but that other clubs made offers and insisted that such a deal would give too much strength to Boston.

After a number of huddles, it was learned from an impeccable source, Connie agreed and made the deals. Cramer hit .332, Higgins .296 and McNair .270 last season, while Simmons hit only .267, falling below .300 for the first time in his great major league career.

Simmons angered the White Sox a week ago when he ripped up a new contract that was offered him. He drew $25,000 last season and the White Sox offered him but $12,500 for 1936.

He ripped it up and uttered a lot of words that got back to his bosses via the grapevine route. Manager Jimmy Dykes admitted all this and freely predicted that Simmons would be playing for the Tigers next year.

Dykes denied that the White Sox had asked as much as $100,000 for the "Milwaukee Duke," who hasn't had a very happy three years in Chicago. Cochrane praised Simmons, predicted he would make a great comeback, and then departed for Miami, Fla., to confer with Briggs.

With Simmons on the move, the report that Chicago would get Fox gained wide circulation, but no one would lend any credence to it.

The Boston situation, it was known, has slowed up a lot of impending deals in the National League. The entire league desires to aid the Braves as much as possible, holding open deals to give them a chance to cut in. Besides, there isn't a club that isn't hot after Walter Berger, star Brave outfielder. If there's a chance, they don't want to be out of "bait" when and if the time comes.

The retirement of Thomas J. Hickey as president of the American Association, the elevation of the Southern and Texas Leagues to a new Class A-1 classification, numerous player deals and delegation of more power to Judge W. G. Bramham of Durham, N. C., National Association president, who had his pay boosted, occupied attention of the minors.

Pittsburgh finally solved its perplexing catcher problem by getting Al Todd from Philadelphia. In return, the Pirates shipped Catcher Earl Grace and Pitcher Claude Passeau, star with Des Moines of the Western League last season, to Philadelphia. Todd batted .291 last season in 107 games; Grace batted .263 in 77.

Baltimore sold Pitcher Joe Gibbs to Baltimore for Catcher Robert Ashby and cash.

Brinnard of the Northern League sold Ted Frank, right handed pitcher, to New York Yankees. Frank won 16, lost 13 last season. Brinnard also sold Outfielder Tom Corbett to St. Paul and Jimmy Gravin, right handed pitcher, to Davenport, Iowa.

Of the members of the Tri-County conference, composed of three year high schools, is going to be left all by itself. The nine other schools plan to withdraw, and re-organize as a new league.

The new three second rule is not going to cause much trouble for basketball officials. M. G. Moore, of Alsey said the other night at the interpretations meeting for basketball officials and coaches. He said that he had observed about 25 games this year so far, and hadn't noticed many violations of the rule.

To the best recollection of officials in charge of the Tri-County tournament, the three second rule was called only eight times in ten games, bearing out Moore's statement.

Bob Wright, who has been three years on the University of Illinois football squad, will be in the starting line-up against Chicago when the Illini wind up their season this Saturday. Big Bob, from Roodhouse, is finishing up in the backfield after two years as a wingman. He is the heartiest man, with one exception, in the starting line-up.

Football casts its last shadow over this city Saturday when Illinois College meets McKendree's Bearcats in the seasonal wind-up. It is really a wind-up too, because the Bearcats will be scrapping for a place in the Little 19 sun, while the Blueboys want a win to keep themselves in second place.

It's been a discouraging year for Coach Ray Nusspickel, and he isn't looking ahead to next year with any large hopes. Only the spirit of the team has kept the season from becoming one of the glummiest in many years.

Harrassed by injuries before the season started, late registration of Co-Captain Abe Feduris, and then more and numerous injuries as the season progressed left the coach with a bare handful of whole youngsters to carry on the game.

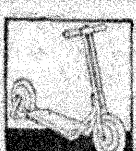

This year's team has been one of the hardest to beat and has shown more power than any of the recent Blueboy machines with the possible exception of last year.

Ashland callers in Jacksonville yesterday included George Lewis.

Hoppe Will Not Ask Cochran for Match

Says He Will Wait Until Next
Tournament to Win
Title

Chicago—(P)—Willie Hoppe of New York said today he had no intention of demanding a title match from Welker Cochran of San Francisco, new world's three cushion billiard champion, within 60 days.

By finishing second in the tournament, Hoppe has a right to challenge, but said he probably would wait and attempt to defeat Cochran in the 1936 tournament.

The one time boy wizard of the cue won second place honors last night, defeating Arthur Thurnbald of Chicago, 50 to 31 in 43 innings. The victory was worth about $2,000 to Hoppe.

Clyde A. Storer, president of the National Billiard Association, said all attendance records for three cushion tournaments were broken at the meeting completed last night. Cochran left for San Francisco, to rest, preparatory to starting a six months exhibition tour at Peoria, Ill., January 26, for a reported salary of $7,500. He received about $3,000 for winning the tournament.

Close Tarheel and Duke Scouting Row

North Carolina Editor Says
It's Illegal; Wade Asks for Agreements

Charlotte, N. C.—(P)—The flare-up over Duke's scouting North Carolina with movie cameras prior to their game last Saturday apparently was regarded as a closed incident today.

There was some talk among alumni of a possible break in athletic relations, but college or athletic authorities of neither school gave any indication that such a step was contemplated.

Duke wrecked North Carolina's previously unbeaten eleven 25 to 0 in an upset which shattered the latter's hope of a Southern Conference title and a Rose Bowl bid.

Reports of the clicking movie cameras were brought into the open yesterday by Phil Hammer, North Carolina student editor. In an editorial he denounced the use of movie cameras by Duke scouts as "ungentlemanly and universally regarded as illicit."

Coch Wallace Wade of Duke admitted his scouts used the cameras, adding "Aren't the others doing the same thing? What agreement is there against it?"

MONTGOMERY WARD

Andrew Jackson's Career Described

Chalmers Giffen Speaks at Kiwanis Meeting on Historical Theme

A Three Days' Cough Is Your Danger Signal

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with anything less than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble to aid nature to soothe and heal the inflamed membranes as the germ-laden phlegm is loosened and expelled. Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, your druggist is authorized to guarantee Creomulsion and to refund your money if you are not satisfied with results from the very first bottle. Get Creomulsion right now. (Adv.)

discussed at the Thursday meeting of the Jacksonville Kiwanis club by Chalmers Giffen. Guests at the meeting included Dr. William O'Reilly of Winchester and David Reynolds of Woodson.

Mr. Giffen spoke of the many hardships and sorrows Jackson suffered during his lifetime and the marks these experiences left upon him. His father died early in Jackson's life, he participated in a war with England while a boy, was captured and held prisoner until his mother obtained his release. He came home weak in body because of disease, which had claimed his brother who had been held prisoner with him.

So terrible were his war experiences that when he became a general in the United States army he had but one idea, that was to kill. He was an orphan at 15 years. He taught school for a while, and studied law. In 1788 he became a prosecuting attorney and was a match for the inhabitants of that wild and "tough" country.

Practically all of his life was spent in service for his country. When he died he said he had but two regrets, one was that he had been unable to meet Henry Clay and the other that he had not been able to shoot John Calhoun.

HOLD SERVICES FOR ALBERT NORTHCUTT

Funeral services for Albert Northcutt, 27, a former resident of the Alexander community, were held Tuesday morning at 8:30 o'clock at St. Mark's Catholic church at Winchester. Rev. Father J. J. Sullivan officiated, and interment was made in Winchester cemetery.

The decedent was a son of the late Charles and Grace Farmer Northcutt. His death occurred Nov. 18 at St. John's sanitarium near Springfield.

The following brothers and sisters survive: Mrs. John Roberts, St. Louis; Russell Northcutt, Lexington, Ill.; Mrs. Arthur Henderson, Mill Shoals, Ill.; Mrs. E. M. Wiechmann and Wilbur Northcutt, both of Flanagan, Ill. There are two cousins, James Howard Farmer, Ashland, and Harold Edward Farmer, Sinclair.

G. A. Simpke of the Woodson community was transacting business in Jacksonville yesterday.

"Typical of CCC", Spats and All

Designated as "most typical" of the 500,000 lads in CCC camps throughout the country, Luther Ridgeway, 21-year-old theological student, is pictured on arrival in New York City in gray spats and pearl gray fedora to deliver a speech in a Young Americans symposium. In spite of his admission that he hasn't chopped brush, planted trees or built roads in his year's service at Camp Pulaski, Ridgeway thought he was "typical" of the CCC membership.

Bible Pageant Will Mark Anniversary

Cast of One Hundred Will Appear in MacMurray Pageant Nov. 24

A pageant, "The Power of the Word," commemorating the four hundredth anniversary of the printing of the Bible in English, will be the principal feature of the annual Thanksgiving vesper service which will be held Sunday afternoon, November 24, at 4 o'clock, at MacMurray college.

Ranging in time from 1835 to the present day, the pageant, which will be presented by 100 students, was written by a national committee and portrays in six episodes how the Bible has lived through every century and what it has meant to man.

Miss Ann Scott is in charge of its direction, and W. Z. Fletcher is supervising the choral work including the presentation. Costumes are under the supervision of Miss Empe Henry, and Miss Lucile Gehring has charge of properties.

Farmer Injured in Struggle with Bull

Orville Becker Loses Ends of Fingers When Caught Under Rope Drawn Taut

Orville Becker, residing in the Pisgah community, was painfully injured this week when two fingers on his right hand were mutilated while he was helping place a ring in a bull's nose. The animal was tied with a rope which stretched across a rail of the pen.

The bull reared and the rope stretched taut, pinning Becker's hand between it and the rail. The ends of two fingers were so badly sawed and crushed by the rope that they had to be removed. The injured man was brought to a hospital here for medical treatment.

THREE CHILDREN OF JERSEYVILLE WOMAN WILL SHARE ESTATE

Jerseyville.—Mrs. Rena B. Terry of Bartow, Fla., Harry T. Parsell and Frank S. Parsell of Jerseyville were named as the beneficiaries in the will of their mother, the late Mrs. Elsie C. Parsell, which was admitted to record Monday afternoon in the county court of Jersey county.

In the second clause of the will the testator bequeathed to her husband, James S. Parsell, the rents, issues, and profits arising from all of her real estate and personal property. Subject to the life estate created in the second clause, Mrs. Parsell bequeathed to her sons Frank S. and Harry T. Parsell in trust the farm of 160 acres in Section 29, Township 8, Range 10 and directed that all profits arising from the real estate after the payment by them of taxes, insurance and expenses of maintaining the said real estate be given to her daughter Rena B. Terry. After her death the estate is to be sold and divided among her children.

FASTEST-STARTING GASOLINE

IN STANDARD OIL HISTORY!
35% QUICKER WARM-UP
WITH NEW STANDARD RED CROWN

Charlie Chase and Joyce Compton, stars of Charlie Chase Comedies, had good reason to be surprised when his faithful Model T started like a jackrabbit. It had never happened before—so it's a safe bet that they had Standard's new double-quick-starting gasoline in the tank.

DON'T think for a minute that this new gasoline is so fast that your car is liable to take off before you're ready. It's not that lively. But it is a remarkably fast-starting gasoline. And by that we don't mean a gasoline that simply gives a flash of action and then sputters and chokes when you try to drive away. We mean a gasoline that, even in bitter winter weather, responds to the first kick of the starter, catches hold at once, and gives you full steam ahead in regular mid-summer form.

That's promising a lot. But this gasoline has fully 35% greater warm-up speed, in zero temperatures. So get some of this new Standard Red Crown... and SEE WHAT HAPPENS next time you step on the starter!

Sold by Standard Oil Stations and Dealers everywhere, at the price of "regular" gasoline

TRADE BALANCE

Washington, Nov. 21.—(AP)—A slender—but favorable—balance of foreign trade was forecast for the current year today by officials of the commerce department.

The final total, they said, may show the country's accustomed excess of exports at its lowest point in 25 years. The first ten months showed a favorable balance of $96,707,000.

Not since 1910 has it fallen below $200,000,000. By comparison, its peaks have been $4,106,000,000 in 1919 and $1,036,000,000 in 1928.

State Files Brief In Hauptmann Case

Washington, Nov. 21.—(AP)—New Jersey asked the supreme court today to let state law take its course in dealing death to Bruno Richard Hauptmann for the kidnapping and murder of the Lindbergh baby.

A thirty-page brief, filed by Joseph L. Nathan, assistant state attorney general, contended the Bronx carpenter had been given all his constitutional rights and hence there was no reason for the high tribunal to review his conviction.

"The state, through its courts," the brief said, "has retained jurisdiction over him and has accorded to him the fullest right and opportunity to be heard according to the established modes of procedure and now holds him in custody to pay the penalty for the crime of which he has been adjudged guilty."

Because of the state's speedy reply to Hauptmann's application for a review, the supreme court may announce as early as December 9 whether it will pass on the case.

If the court refuses to review the conviction, the death sentence will stand unless set aside by further proceedings.

Reorganization Plan Submitted

Chicago, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Salvaging of the Middle West Utilities company, key holding corporation of the Insull system, reached completion today when banks and noteholders presented for approval by Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson a modified reorganization plan.

Heretofore declining to consider Judge Wilkerson's suggestion that stockholders be given an interest in addition to new stock, the banks secured creditors and noteholders suddenly reversed their position. Judge Wilkerson set Nov. 26 for arguments.

Under the present plan, common stockholders would get one share in a new company for each 100 shares of their old stock, plus a warrant for the purchase of one more share for $8 the first year, $9 the second and $10 the third.

Preferred stockholders would get one new share for four of the old, plus one warrant at the same rates offered common share owners.

Whoopie Decision Upheld By Court

Chicago, Nov. 21.—(AP)—The appellate court today upheld the conviction of two former officials for conspiracy to defraud the Chicago Sanitary District at a time known as the "Whoopie Era" because of the free-hand disbursement of the district's millions.

The ruling involved Frank J. Link, former sanitary district trustee, and John T. Miller, erstwhile assistant of plants for the district which operates the city's sewage system. They were convicted by three judges sitting en banc nearly four years ago. Link was sentenced to one to five years, along with another former trustee and Democratic leader, Timothy Crowe, now dead. Miller was sentenced to six months in jail.

OIL FOR ITALY

Corpus Christi, Texas, Nov. 21.—(AP)—The Pennsylvania Italian tanker, sailed from here today with 60,000 barrels of crude oil for the Italian fleet in the Mediterranean.

It picked up 50,000 barrels previously in Port Isabel.

The shipment completed a contract entered into several months ago before the United States government frowned on commerce with belligerents in the Italo-Ethiopian war.

First Reading of Municipal Light Ordinance Is Given

(Continued from Page Fourteen) quired to present an audit of its accounts. Proceeds of the sale of certificates are to be used for the construction of the plant, and the accrued interest from these certificates goes into the certificate fund, sections 18 and 19 state.

A trust deed is to be executed to the holders or holder of the certificates as soon as practicable after the project is completed, according to section 20, which also provides that if the city defaults on its payments for 12 months, a foreclosure sale may be held.

Anyone may purchase the equipment at the foreclosure sale, but purchase does not carry a franchise for the use of the city streets.

Submit to Voters.

The final three sections provide that if any clause in the ordinance is found to be invalid, only that clause is affected, that the proposition must be submitted to the voters and that any ordinance or parts of ordinances in conflict with this one are repealed.

Following the completion of the reading, the special counsel stated that he would be glad to answer any questions possible in connection with the ordinance, but preferred to answer any questions regarding its legality in a private conference with aldermen. He said he did not wish to discuss the ordinance in public with representatives of the power company were present.

First reading of the election ordinance is planned for next Friday night, if the council adopts the ordinance providing for the plant. Foreman stated that he did not believe it was advisable now to introduce an election ordinance, in view of the fact that it had to specify a date for holding the election. The ordinance, he said, should be adopted before the election was called.

The first of the debates over the power problem broke during a report of the project committee when Alderman George Brown asked under what authority the council was going ahead with its project of tearing up the street car tracks. He asked if the council had legal right to the property, the right to remove it and the right to sell it.

Title to Rails

Alderman W. H. Cocking answered to the effect that an offer is now in the hands of the city attorney waiting action of the council in which title to the rails is transferred to the city. He presented a contract with the Cohen company for the salvage of rails at the rate of $9.00 a ton, and the council, over the protest of the city council, voted to sell the rails to the salvage concern by a 4-3 vote.

Early, Harmon and Mathews voted against the sale, and Alderman Brown, on a 7-1 vote of the council was excused from voting. Early voted against excusing Brown.

The city engineer, Kenneth Stapleton, appeared before the council to explain the project, pointing out that it called for employment of 45 men for about five months and that the government would purchase $700 worth of material for the purpose of refilling the places where the rails were removed, and that it would also purchase 285 barrels of cement. Brown declared he had no objection to the project but did object to selling property which the city did not own.

Mayor-pro-tem Mathews said the project would not be stopped, but as chairman of the highway committee, he would immediately get in touch with the Illinois Power & Light company and work out some settlement with them about the rails.

Another ordinance, making it illegal to keep livestock over one hour in the city, except in areas used for agriculture, to load or unload them within the city limits or for resale or transportation, was also given its first reading. The ordinance provides a fine of from $5.00 to $100 for violations.

Protests Action

A letter from H. E. Weaver, of the Jacksonville Ice and Cold Storage company, protesting the action of the city in going ahead with the project to obtain a municipal light and power plant, was read and placed on file.

The letter was as follows: November 20, 1936

Mayor Fletcher Blackburn, Jacksonville, Illinois.

"Dear Mr. Mayor:

At your council meeting last night you stated that while the responsibility of decision on the proposed city improvements was entirely the burden of the city council, you, nevertheless, were interested in receiving the opinions of the citizens.

The writer is deeply interested in the proposed improvements partly from the standpoint of a taxpayer; partly from the standpoint of a quantity user of both water and power; but more especially from the standpoint of a citizen of the city. All of us should place the welfare of the community above all other considerations and it is chiefly from this point of view that the writer is considering the various proposals.

"Because of the above facts the writer is, therefore, taking the liberty of presenting to you and the other members of the city council his opinions on the question of a new municipal plant.

"Assuming that something must be done (which is a highly debatable question), it should first be determined whether or not a new municipal plant is necessary. Looking at the subject from the standpoint of an investment by an individual it would seem that before deciding to invest this enormous sum of money in a proposition which is highly speculative that two other solutions of the problem should be carefully considered. These possibilities are as follows:

"1. Install Diesel Engines at the plant. Diesel engines are practically no expense to the city. Our company has received from many reputable oil engine manufacturers the offer to install Diesel Engines at our plant to generate the power which is used. The engines to be paid for by the difference between our present power bills and the cost of the operating of the Diesel Engine equipment. Undoubtedly these same reputable oil engine builders would be very glad to install in your present power plant Diesel Engines to generate the power which you are now generating and would need for your present load and take as their pay the difference between your present operating expenses and the operating expenses after the plant is modernized.

"This is especially true when we consider that your cost of generating power at the present plant is approximately twice the cost at which power can be purchased by the average large power user in this section of the country. It would simply mean that their engines in the city's plant would be paid for in about one-half the usual time which, of course, would make the proposition that much more attractive to the Diesel Engine builders.

Plan Advantages

"The advantages of the adoption of this plan would be many.

"1. Practically no expense to the city.

"2. The engines are paid for the increased saving could be used either to:

(a) Pay off present bonds against the city plant.

(b) Extend generating capacity to a sufficient amount to sell outside users.

(c) Reduce the water rates.

"Please bear in mind that in this plan the city would be incurring practically no risk at all. You are guaranteed by the oil engine manufacturers a saving which will pay for the engines. If the plan does not materialize as it should the city is still out no money.

"Plan 2. The appointing of a committee to negotiate with the Illinois Power and Light Corporation for:

(a) Reduction in present rates.

(b) A contract for supplying the city with power now generated by the city.

"In the writer's opinion this is a plan which any individual in business such as the city is, in this instance, would give very earnest consideration. If a municipal plant is installed as was contemplated at your meeting last night, if will, of course, be absolutely necessary that they secure customers. Experience shows that this will be accomplished by reducing the rates. Of course the competing company will meet any rate the municipal plant puts up just the same as you, Mr. Mayor, would do if you owned the competing plant. Undoubtedly, they appreciate this situation and realize that under the present conditions all of the domestic customers at a lower rate would be preferable to one-half of them at the same rate. Therefore, it would seem reasonable to suppose that they should be interested in such a proposition.

"For the same reason they should be interested in supplying power to the city at a rate which will be much cheaper than is your present generating cost and should you desire to enter into a competing system, it would be good business for them to sell you the power. Undoubtedly, they appreciate this situation as well and would, therefore, take a reasonable attitude on that question.

"From the city's standpoint the advantages of this plan in comparison with your present plan would be:

(a) The reduction of bonded indebtedness.

(b) The elimination of all uncertainty as to just what would be accomplished.

(c) The ability to expand the municipal equipment to any desired limit with a minimum of trouble or scrapping of facilities then in use.

In further elaboration of the above points and in comment on your present plan the writer wishes to offer the following for your earnest consideration:

"1. Often plans do not materialize as contemplated. You, of course, are familiar with many instances of this.

Free Billiard Exhibition tonight.—The DREXEL.

business axiom. However, to be specific in a case which is near home, we need only mention the water works proposition here. The time has arrived where the estimate must be replaced because of depreciation and where the money is not available to do the job and the bonds which were issued at the time of the improvement are still outstanding. The fact that Springfield, for instance, has a low electric rate while the rate here is higher, means little when we consider the fact that Springfield also has a much lower water rate as well. Therefore, the municipal plant supplying water to Jacksonville did not function in the way that had been originally planned and the low rates which municipal plants are supposed to bring did not follow in this instance.

Haste Makes Waste

"It is inadvisable to enter into any proposition so indefinite as the present set up. The old adage 'Haste makes waste' is still true and proof of this, you undoubtedly, find many instances in your own business experience and know of others in the experience of your friends. However, we need again only point to a specific case in the city's affairs. The PWA on whom you rely for your money have just left your water department out on the end of a limb with the council obligated by contract for a sum of money out of all proportion to the benefits which the city will derive therefrom because after notifying the city by letter to proceed they arbitrarily cancelled the appropriation. The writer submits to you as a business man that this is a poor catch to lean on.

"3. While the writer as a purchaser of water and power is, of course, interested in securing same at the lowest possible price, nevertheless, the writer is very much opposed to the federal government taking taxpayers money supporting an army of jobholders through which organization it distributes the taxpayers money for the purpose of establishing competition to the industries from which the government derives its income. Furniture factories are being built when the present furniture factories are not working at capacity. Millions of dollars are being spent on the one hand to place additional land in cultivation and on the other hand money is being paid to farmers who are already cultivating land to raise wheat. The tidal project in Maine squanders millions of dollars of the taxpayers money on a wild eyed dream which is totally impractical and which, if it succeeds, will be absolutely useless because there is no demand for the power thus generated. In yesterday's newspaper there is a typical illustration of government waste. Money being spent by the federal government for decorating saloons and taverns in a southern state and upon investigation it was found that none of the liquor sold there was bootleg liquor from Cuba.

"Another illustration is the seven million dollars of taxpayers money which has been used to maintain the NRA organization after the act itself has been declared unconstitutional.

"The writer thinks that the citizens of Jacksonville and the council should have more pride and more good business judgment than to become associated with such a wasteful management in any project. None of you as individuals would tolerate for a second a business partner who wasted your money in such a manner as is being done by your partner in the proposed project. The council should carefully consider the consequences should the following conditions arise:

1. If you proceed in part with this proposition as outlined only to have the funds withdrawn.

2. If the plan of securing one-half of the customers in the city does not materialize.

3. If the plant costs much more than is contemplated.

4. Additional operating expenses which will result from a separation of the water and the power department.

Clear Cut Unit

"Undoubtedly this separation occurs simply because of the desire to make it a clear cut unit from the standpoint of the men who derive their fees from it and in order to facilitate the checking by the cumbersome machinery of the federal government. From the standpoint of the city it will mean many thousands of dollars additional operating expense.

"It is the writer's suggestions that sufficient time be taken for a committee appointed by the council or any other disinterested party to carefully investigate the other two plans as outlined above. The writer is confident that either of them would be much better than the course you are now contemplating.

Yours very truly,

H. E. WEAVER."

Another letter, stating that by signing the bond offer presented by the federal government through the Public Works Administration was considered to be evidence of intent to proceed to construction with the power plant, also was read. The letter stated that the advance grant payment, amounting to 15 percent of the grant of $189,000 would become available when the bond offer was signed by the proper city officials.

A letter from the state water board, to the effect that it was granting permission to the city to extend its mains to connect with the Powers Beggs and Cohen rendering works on Johnson street, was read. The two companies will be asked to provide preliminary treatment to the waste matter that goes into the mains if it is found that the waste matter overloads the south side disposal plant.

Notice that a hearing will be given the proposal of the Alton Railroad company to withdraw its trains No. 27 and 28 through this city on Dec. 17 at 9:30 a. m., in Springfield also was read.

City Clerk Phillips also placed on file a report of the health department and read a notice from the state highway department to the effect that the city's share of the October motor fuel tax was $2,508.93.

Fascist troops were visibly moved as the flag draped coffin passed through a solemn state and procession through the heart of Asmara.

Aviators who participated in the battle declared they saw white faces among the Ethiopians firing anti-aircraft guns, and threats were freely voiced to make any whites serving this enemy pay dearly.

Railroad Stocks Gain Two Points

By Frank MacMillan

Associated Press Financial Writer
New York, Nov. 21.—(U. S. Dept. Agr.)—Railroad stocks with gains of fractions to 2 or more points steamed ahead to a new average high for 1935 today, giving the market second wind after Wednesday's setback.

Fuel for the rails, brokers said, consisted partly of Wall street estimates that last week's loadings, to be reported tomorrow, would be better than expected earlier.

In addition, there was Wednesday's forecast of Jesse Jones, Reconstruction Finance Corporation chief, that the agency would stand ready to lend funds for taxes on adequate collateral.

The Associated Press average of 15 rails shares rose 1.2 to 28.2, a new 1935 high. Measured by the average of 60 stocks the market was up .5 of a point to 55.9. Transactions totaled 3,324,710 shares against 3,852,377 the day before.

Specialties continued in demand, gains of 1 to 7 points being scored by Houdaille-Hershey "B" at 30 1/2, Gillette at 18 1/2, Budd Mfg. at 8 1/2, Collins & Alkan at 4 1/2, Vanadium at 2 1/2, and Cold Duct at 20 1/2.

The disclosure at Washington that Consolidated Gas of New York had followed the lead of United Gas Improvement in refusing to register with the securities and exchange commission was followed by a decline in the stock of 4 of a point to 38 1/2.

The utility list at large, however, edged up slightly.

GREATER INTEREST IS BEING SHOWN IN FARM DISCUSSIONS

Urbana, Ill.—Increasing interest of Illinois farm people in discussions dealing with the problems of agriculture is indicated by the fact that ten county teams plan to enter the state discussion team tourney this year as compared to four teams last year, according to D. E. Lindstrom, rural sociology extension specialist at the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

This year's tourney, which is the second of its kind to be held in Illinois, will take place during January and Home Week, Jan. 13 to 17, with the semi-finals being held on Jan. 13 and the finals on Jan. 15. The topic for discussion will be "How Should Agriculture Adjust Its Production."

Each team will consist of a chairman and three discussion guides. An unlimited number of teams may enter the county tourneys with the winners from each county going to the semi-finals. Edgar, Effingham, Randolph, DeKalb, Stephenson, and Jo Daviess counties already have made arrangements for their county tourneys and plans are underway in Williamson, Will, McDonough, and Ford counties. Last year's entries included Edgar, McLean, Randolph, and Effingham counties.

Two teams composed of the six best individual discussion guides and two best chairmen will be chosen during the semi-finals on Jan. 15 and will compete for the state championship the following day, Lindstrom said.

Arrangements for the tourney are being handled by a state executive committee composed of the chairmen from the seven district committees. Members of the state committee are Clara Miller, Plano, district 1; L. S. Johnson, Morrison, district 2; C. W. Rodgers, Macomb, district 3; Herman W. Danforth, Danforth, district 4; Everett H. Burns, Athens, district 5; C. B. Shuman, Sullivan, district 6; and Roy Craig, Sparta, district 7.

Livestock Prices Irregular, Higher

Chicago, Nov. 21.—(U. S. Dept. Agr.)—Livestock prices moved irregularly higher today, influenced by contracted receipts. The bearish effect of increased competition with the poultry trade at this time of season was largely ignored.

A new top, the highest since May, 1930, was established in the lamb market when odd loads of fed comeback lambs sold as high as $11.00. The shipping demand for choice steers continued and prices were strong but no animals comparable with those that brought yesterday's $14.00 peak were available.

Hogs closed active, 10 to 20 cents higher, with the top at $9.70. The trade had only 15,000 fresh receipts, a third direct.

Fed steers and yearlings were unevenly steady to 25 cents higher and the rank and file were steady to strong. The market was not as active as yesterday, but a good clearance was made. The top was $13.15.

Fat lambs closed strong to 15 cents higher. The bulk of good to choice native and fed comeback lambs sold at $10.50 to $10.90.

Chicago Livestock

Chicago, Nov. 21.—(U. S. Dept. Agr.)—Hogs, 15,000, including 5,000 direct, unevenly 10-20 higher than Wednesday's average; top $9.70; bulk 180-300 lb. $9.50-65; few 310-350 lb. $9.25-60; most 140-170 lb. $9.25-60; best sows $9.60.

Cattle, 6,000; calves, 1,500; few steers and yearlings unevenly steady to 25 higher; shipping grades showing upturn with general market mostly steady to strong; market not as active as on Wednesday but offerings getting good support; all fat stock steady to strong; vealers and bulls steady; stockers and feeders unchanged; top $13.15 for weighty steers; best yearlings $12.25; mixed yearlings $11.75; practical top vealers $10.75; most bulls $5.50-75; few $5.85.

Sheep, 10,000; fat lambs in fairly broad demand but as yet few sales; sellers usually refusing 10-15 lower bids; asking fully steady to stronger; natives and fed comeback lambs bid $10.50 down; best held $10.75 upward; sheep firm; native ewes $4.00-5.00; choice westerns held above $5.25; feeding lambs scarce.

Wheat Values Gain 3 Cents Bushel

By John P. Boughan

Chicago, Nov. 21.—(U. S. Dept. Agr.)—Wheat values gained almost 3 cents a bushel.

Fears that extreme high temperatures threatening in Argentina would cause worse damage to crops already at a precarious stage did much to stimulate broadened speculative buying of wheat futures. Higher prices were also promoted through evidence of improved domestic milling demand for red winter wheat both here and at Kansas City.

Wheat in Chicago closed strong, 15-25 above yesterday's finish, Dec. 984-1/2, corn 1 off to 1 up, Dec. 604-1/2, oats unchanged to 1 higher, and provisions at a rise of 10 to 20 cents.

Vigorous upward swing of foreign wheat markets preceded the upturn here. Liverpool reported a scarcity of sellers abroad, with Argentine shipments curtailed and better call for Canadian and Australian wheat. Argentine wheat exports this week were estimated at totaling only 1,176,000 bushels against 3,824,000 the corresponding time last year.

Lateness of the new Argentine wheat crop was emphasized in cable advices that also indicated Argentine exporters may have difficulty in fulfilling January contracts. It was added Buenos Aires November delivery of wheat is now at a premium of about 3 cents a bushel over December, whereas two months ago November and December prices were identical with each other. Notice, too, was taken of reports that persistent rains in France were causing delay to wheat sowing.

17 Year Old Girl Held After Theft Of an Automobile

Girl and Two Boys Jailed After Car Disappears in Jacksonville

Mann went to Pittsfield Wednesday afternoon and got the car. The girl arrested as a suspect in the theft first gave the name of June Summers, afterward giving several other names. She finally decided to answer to the name of Mildred Riley. The boys held at Pittsfield gave their names as Carl Riley and Paul Conrad. Police Chief Williamson's attention was first attracted Wednesday night when Riley asked him if he would stand good for five gallons of gasoline. The Pittsfield officer investigated and found the girl in a Ford Tudor with a dealer's license.

The girl, who said she is an orphan, claimed she ran away from a Springfield home about three weeks ago. She said she was picked up west of Jacksonville Wednesday afternoon by a man driving the Ford. When they got to Bluffs, according to the girl's story, the man abandoned the car and disappeared. She then drove on to Pittsfield.

The Lukeman car was stolen from near the service station on West State street.

Owners of the car had not obtained warrants Thursday and whether the girl will be prosecuted is not known. Pike county authorities continued to hold the trio for further investigation.

Young Democrats

Oppose New Deal

Dallas, Tex., Nov. 21.—(AP)—Joe Bal-ley Humphreys, youthful leader of a band of insurgent Texas Democrats, claimed mounting strength for his group tonight in a tirade against the new deal.

Once an executive of the young Democrats of Texas, Humphreys de-cried caustic charges at the orga-nization, which convenes tomorrow at Fort Worth to elect new officers and shove off a state-wide campaign for reaffirmation of the new deal in 1936.

Still a Democrat and assertedly holding only from the new deal, Humphreys claimed definite organization in at least half of Texas' 254 counties for his new-born "States Rights Dem-o-crats."

"The young Democrats have been taken over by Jim Farley and com-munited until its office holders are mere political hirelings who are try-ing to protect their 'jobs,' stormed the Houston county prosecutor.

Humphreys, namesake of Texas' late Democratic United States sen-ator, said the "States Rights" pro-posal to send an uninducted delega-tion to the state and national con-vention, adding:

"We want a sound-thinking, genu-ine Democrat who will stay by party principles."

Poisoned Soda

Claims Victim

San Francisco, Nov. 21.—(AP)—A fourth death and three more ill-nesses ascribed tentatively to poisoned taking soda spurred authorities to-night to intensify their search for the source of the lethal compound.

George Purnaras, 45, a dishwasher, died in convulsions today, a few hours after taking bicarbonate of soda.

Deputy Coroner Anthony Trabucco said the soda was from a different source than that blamed for three other recent deaths and 21 illnesses here.

He investigated to determine if the dishwasher might have died from an- other ailment, however, when the proprietor of the restaurant reported he had been using the soda in cook-ing. None of his customers had com-plaind, the restaurant owner said.

Barbara Hutton

Sells Mortgages

New York, Nov. 21.—(AP)—The sale of 24 mortgages owned by Countess Von Haugwitz-Reventlow, the form-er Barbara Hutton, today was fol-lowed by reports that the $400,000 she is supposed to have inherited has been awarded to a fraction of that amount.

The Brooklyn Eagle said it had re-ceived reports that her fortune now is only $5,000,000 or less.

"The mortgages sold by her attor-neys today had a face value of $352,700. The amount received was not disclosed, but it was reported that the mortgages, on property on Long Island, were sold at 25 to 50 per cent below face value.

The Brooklyn Eagle said "it is un-derstood the former Miss Hutton has given orders to dispose of all the real estate interests she possesses."

She was dropped from the 1934 social register which was issued yes-terday.

Will Open Mail Route

Alameda, Calif., Nov. 21.—(AP)—The Trans-Pacific Air Mail will start operating tomorrow.

Final blind landing tests put the big China clipper in shape today for the inaugural 8,000-mile flight.

Letters poured in from stamp col-lectors everywhere to make up more than a ton of mail cargo. Special planes brought last-minute mailings from Eastern cities.

Postmaster William H. McCarthy of San Francisco said it would consti-tute the largest single consignment of "first cover" mail of record on land, sea or air. About 85,000 pieces ac-cumulated.

AUTO CRASH FATAL

Sterling, Ill., Nov. 21.—(P)—George Consolas, 78, of Nora, Ill., was killed today when the automobile in which he was riding skidded on the icy pavement and overturned, near Alton. He was riding with Fred Heigh, of Muscatine, Ia.

Dr. and Mrs. William L. Powell of Palmyra were visitors in Jacksonville yesterday.

J. T. Atkins of the Prentice neigh-borhood was a business visitor in the city yesterday.

Oakley Atkins was among callers in the city yesterday afternoon from Sal-cera.

WELL said, noble and brave

Scott. We'll see." Nancy smiled cynically. "Maybe you won't break under the iron hand of your grandmother, but I have an idea you'll be a bit bent in the process. Unless you run away, as your mother did."

Dana said, her voice trembling: "How can you talk so lightly of my mother—your mother, too?"

"Yes," the other girl answered slowly. "That's what I can't forget, what I can't forgive."

"What could you know of her problems?"

"It's easy for you, who had her lot, to understand. Nancy's lips curved in a scornful smile. "Remember, Dana, I was the one who was left behind."

As Dana did not speak, the other went on lightly: "No hard feelings between us. After all, we're pretty much in the same boat. Both poor, both homeless and motherless. Both poor, because my father fell in with the family failings and lost all his money too. And your father, from what I have heard of him, never thought it important to make any. So we both start from scratch here!"

She lifted a slim hand in a mock salute, opened the door and closed it behind her.

Local Teachers, Students Will Attend Meeting

School Group Represented In Various Sessions Of Institute

Today, the teachers of the Jacksonville High and Junior High schools will go to Champaign for the annual state institute. And along with them will go what is certainly one of the largest, if not the largest, student delegation in the state.

Nine J. H. S. students are actually taking part in the institute in its various sessions. The Crimsons student body is represented in musical, forensics, and literary fields at the university city.

Wednesday morning the first contingent departed, five members of Miss Lena Hopper's musical clubs, to take part in the all-state chorus. This chorus rehearsed Wednesday and yesterday and will present two concerts today. Jacksonville is always ranked at the very top in the number of students from its accepted for the chorus. Five is an unusually large number to participate from one school. These students are Ann Sigler, Betty McClelland, Bill Riggs, Jerry Underbrink and Richard Hopper.

In the forensics division, two J. H. S. debaters, Mary Butler and Ralph Dunlap will appear before the conference of speech teachers to give analytical discussions of this year's debate question of socialized medicine from the negative and affirmative sides respectively. This is an honor resulting from the team's outstanding work in the last two years under the guidance of Coach Harold Gibson, Jacksonville High school is the only school in the state honored in this manner.

For the literary side of the J. H. S. yearbook, the "Crimson J." and Bill Clark, business manager, will attend a special conference devoted to high school annuals and periodicals. They will be accompanied by the senior class dean, John Agger.

All in all, it can be seen that the Jacksonville teachers will not be the only local people at the institute and that the students will have a representation right along with their instructors.

Council Votes Down Resolution To Meet To Discuss Rates

Guarded throughout with provisions that obligations assumed by the city in constructing a municipal light and power plant under no circumstances can become general obligations and debts of the city collectable by general taxes, the ordinance providing for the plant was given its first reading at the city council's regular meeting last night after the council voted 5 to 2 against a resolution which would have provided for a conference between the city officials, a committee of three citizens, and the Illinois Power & Light Corporation for the purpose of securing lower rates for consumers in this city.

The ordinance, under the rules of the council, was laid over until the next regular meeting, scheduled for Thanksgiving night. An agreement was reached by the council that it would meet just long enough to adjourn until the following night, when the ordinance will be brought up for passage.

Requiring one hour to read, the ordinance of 32 long typewritten pages covered every phase of the project from the construction including a description of the work to be done and the type of materials to be used, the form of the public utility certificates, and the means of paying them off, was heard with rapid attention by the council. Mayor P. J. Blackburn was out of the city, and Alderman F. R. Mathews was elected mayor pro tem.

A long argument preceded the introduction of the ordinance after Alderman W. H. Cocking introduced a resolution which provided for the mayor to appoint a committee of three citizens and all of the members of the council to interview the Illinois Power and Light Corporation. The resolution was voted down with Alderman Cocking and Alderman Ralph Green the only members casting a vote in favor of the resolution in the form it was presented.

The Resolution.

The resolution, which reads as follows: Whereas, this council has heretofore favored the Municipal Commercial Lighting Plant for the City of Jacksonville, principally in the hope that such a project would result in lower electric rates for the people of Jacksonville; and

Whereas this Council believes that said primary purpose of lower rates might be effected without the expenditure of the large amount of money of money that will be required to build a municipal light plant.

Resolved, That the Mayor appoint a committee consisting of the members of this Council, and himself, and three citizens of this community, to negotiate with Illinois Power and Light Corporation as to the possibility of securing a substantial reduction in rates to private consumers in this city as an alternative to the building of a municipal lighting plant.

The resolution was endorsed by Cocking and received the support of Alderman Green on the grounds that if the power company has an offer to make, he believed that it should present its proposition. Cocking stated that it was his understanding that the power company would have a proposition to offer the city, and that if they had anything that could meet the competition of a municipally owned plant, he wanted the citizens to know it.

Special Counsel O. N. Foreman immediately lodged a protest against the resolution, pointing out that it stated that the council "believed" lower rates might be secured from the power company. Robert Carps rose from the spectators' section to point out that the resolution also stated that lower rates "might" be effected.

Continuing his argument against the resolution, the special attorney stated that he had no opposition to examining any rate schedule the Illinois Power and Light company wished to submit, and suggested that the council allow the company to make its proposition, but at the same time proceed with the plans for a municipal plant and let the voters decide where they wanted to buy their power.

Alderman John Early mentioned that the power company has had several years in which to bring about rate reductions.

Alderman Cocking struck out the second paragraph of the resolution after listening to objections on the part of the aldermen and the special counsel, but the special counsel returned to address the council, pointing out that there was nothing in the resolution to set a time limit for negotiations, and that time was essential now.

Speaking as an alderman, Mathews declared that he felt that the utility company should be given the right to come into the council with a proposition. He declared that neither the engineer on the project nor the special counsel had submitted a financial statement in connection with the municipal light plant, and that he believed the power company should have the right to file its proposition.

The action, taken on the resolution as changed, brought negative votes from Alderman Brown, Denny, Early, Harmon and Weaver, and brought a storm of applause from a large crowd in the council chamber. Alderman Cocking and Green voted for the resolution.

Following the debate over the Cocking resolution, Special Counsel Foreman, taking the place of City Clerk John R. Phillips, whose voice is temporarily impaired when submitted to a long strain, began reading the ordinance.

Preamble of Ordinance.

The preamble of the ordinance sets out that the city because of necessity and in the interests of its citizens, deem it advisable to build a municipal plant, and that the estimated cost of the project is $420,000, to be payable out of the revenues of the plant, and under no circumstances can become a general obligation of the city. The loan for the plant is to be secured by a mortgage on the property, and a mortgage on the revenue of the plant.

The preamble also sets out that the city has no money for this purpose and that in order to construct the plant it will be necessary to issue bonds not to exceed $420,000. The bonded lighting system is exempted from any claim which might be filed by holders of the public utility certificates, as they are the property of the city.

The first section gives the city the authority to acquire ownership of the generating and distribution system, and the city council the authority to fix the rates. The second section provides the authority for the ordinance, and the authority to enter into contracts for the construction of the plant and distribution system.

A long description of what the plant is to contain follows in the third section, setting out that there shall be a complete distribution system, capable of serving the city and private consumers, specifying the height of poles and the distance apart which the poles are to be set, a generating plant capable of developing sufficient power to meet the estimated 2,000 kilowatt maximum load, three Diesel oil engines, generators, switchboards, oil tanks and buildings to house the equipment, and a building to house the central distributing switchboard. This section also provides for 2,000 meters to be installed in the homes of consumers and transformers as needed.

Estimated Cost.

The estimated cost of the project, $420,000, is set forth in the fourth section, and authority to issue certificates not to exceed that amount is provided in the fifth section. The certificates are to bear four percent interest. It was explained after the close of the meeting that this section is made to provide for the issuance of certificates not to exceed $420,000 in order to harmonize with the estimated cost, but that under the PWA grant, it will be necessary to issue certificates only for $231,000. The Public Works Administration has made a grant of $189,000 for the purpose of constructing the plant.

The method of paying off the indebtedness out of the revenue of the plant is established in the next section. Here it is provided that $5,000 be paid in 1937; $6,000 in 1938; $5,000 in 1939; $12,000 in 1940; $15,000 in 1941; $15,000 in 1942; $15,000 in 1943; $15,000 in 1944; $20,000 in 1945 and each year thereafter until 1952, when an installment of $20,000 will fall due. In 1953 a $25,000 installment is due, and $40,000 will mature in each of the next two years. The final installment, payable in 1956, amounts to $50,000. The section provides that payment shall be made in any legal tender, and again repeats that the payments may in no way be made a general obligation of the city.
